

verb

A word
that shows
action, being,
or linking:

He jumped.
There was a hobbit.
Joe is low.

Chapter Four: Verbs

As Poodle and What?
walked down to Four,
they thought about stages
they'd seen, like gauges—
safe harbor for thoughts—safe pages.

There are eight kinds of words,
not lots (and not knots),
just eight. It's great.

Nouns name people, places, or things.
Pronouns take nouns' place.
Adjectives modify nouns or pronouns.

Nouns, pronouns, adjectives...

Just three kinds of words
in a group, like a loop,
with nouns about things
and pronouns like dings—
“Ding ding ding ding!”—
He! She! It! Him! Her! They!
and adjectives shaping the two.
