"Here, boss," she said.

And she was about to shout ACTION!,
but the bird suddenly had an idea.

We'll roar together, in unison.

I'll go GAWK!!!, and you go GRRRRKKKK!!!,
and What? can copy us."

The whole place shook.

What? put on his meanest face,
and curled his doglip, and barked,
“Grrfffy grffff!”

Maybe looked pale.
Bizzie fanned her with her scarf.
No one knew what to say.

From somewhere, the author asked,
“Maybe, do you want me
to write him a bark?
I can write What? a bark.”

“No,” she said.
“You stay out of this.”

“Who said that?” asked the bird,
looking around.

“The author,” Maybe said.
“You can’t see him. I’ll explain later.”
