

A watercolor illustration of a landscape. On the left, a dark, stylized tree with many thin, spindly branches reaches upwards. The background is a mix of light and dark blue washes, suggesting a sky and distant hills. A single bird is depicted in flight, its wings spread, positioned in the upper middle part of the image. The overall style is soft and painterly.

Here are some good linking verbs:

The old tree is beautiful.

Maria was a good artist.

John is a fisherman.

Harry is sleepy.

Aletha is a musician.