

Remember when we studied prepositions, and we learned that a preposition is always the first word of a little word group called a prepositional phrase?