

So nouns and pronouns
let us give names to things.
But it is such a big world that you would have to know thousands of nouns
to name all of the things...

...or would you?