

So, there are only eight kinds of words,
the eight parts of speech.

Try again. Can you identify every part of speech in these sentences?

You might need to use a dictionary.

Pablo rode his bike up the sidewalk toward town.

Yes, I will meet him at the cinema in an hour.

The baker made cakes and pies for us.

He saw him at school, but she saw her there.

The man carefully handed the bucket to her.

When the bus arrived, many tourists climbed on.

He looked slowly across the old rooftops.
