

The old furniture shop, a former stable,

—appositive phrase—

was at the west end of Front Street

——prep. phrase——      ——prep. phrase——

and was only open on Saturdays.

——prep. phrase——

Collapsing slowly, the shop needed

——participial phrase——

fixing up, but the owner did not want

—gerund phrase—

to spend the money.

——infinitive phrase——