

Three-Level Analysis for Level Four Sessions

You now will begin to study Level Four, clauses. As you study clauses, you should continue to do some three-level analysis every day so that you maintain and strengthen your command of the first three levels. Here are some three-level practice sentences that you can do during the Level Four instruction.

1. Alexander's brilliant tactic made holding the line a problem.

2. Life was hard for Rolfe and me after barbarians stormed the walls.

3. Alexander wanted to begin the assault at dawn.

4. Greeting you and me, Alexander handed you the ancient scroll.

5. Meeting Diogenes, the Cynic philosopher, was a goal for Alexander.
